One of the most evident results of the modern discoveries of gold, in such large quantities, has been the great increase in substantial gold jewbeen the great increase in substantial gold jew-elry, and the corresponding decline in that tradity and useless description of oranments which formerly were foisted upon the public.—
The great noise about gold has led people to in-restigate the matter, and the result is that all such have become satisfied, that substantial, bons fale-gold articles, are at once most oranmental and most consonical. As no instal can be more regulation tealure. While many increase and more useful, when monded, and most be communit, have falled and Basered Melodies, CVENILE MUSIC.
